This three-part training in Flower and Vibrational Essences explores Essences from all over the world. It consists of an Introductory Residential Retreat of 5 days which covers the fundamentals of how Essences work and how they affect us, the different methodologies that now exist for making them, how to select them, and how to work with them professionally with clients. A wide range of Essences will be taught to you therapeutically and experienced by you. This aspect of the course will focus on the development of your intuitive skills and your ability to attune to both essences and clients in order to prescribe effectively and confidently.

Six to nine months later, an Advanced Essence Retreat of 5 days will follow looking at the deeper work of Essences on a spiritual level. You will learn of shamanic techniques, working with transition and death, specific therapeutics for women and children, how to work with geopathic stress and advanced techniques for distance healing. You will also look at professional issues regarding running a therapy practice.

Between the two retreats a Distance Learning module will commence involving written assignments and phone tutorials.

Enquiries are welcome from people who would like to attend either or both retreats without doing the full training.

The aim of this training is to provide an inspiring, experiential and exploratory environment in which you can learn about Essences.

Essences are an incredible tool and can touch us at a very deep level as gentle catalysts to raise our consciousness and balms to harmonise our emotions, mind and spirit.

You will be supported in uncovering your own unique potential as an Essence Practitioner and the ways in which you would most like to work with the many varied and wonderful essences there are now available.

Training can be paid for in full or as separate parts. Retreats: £565 each (includes all accommodation and vegetarian wholefood); Distance learning module: £210
